

Duncan Morrison

Duncan Morrison, BSF, MSc (Brit Col.) PhD (Cantab) was employed as a Forest Pathologist by the Canadian Forest Service, Pacific Forestry Centre, Victoria from 1966-2005 to conduct research on the distribution, epidemiology and management of root diseases of forest trees.

He is the Author or Co-author of 40 plus journal papers, and Co-author of "Tree Hazards in Recreation Sites in B.C." and "Common Tree Diseases in B.C." He was an Adjunct Professor in the U.B.C. Faculty of Forestry from 1983-2006 where he provided thesis supervision to graduate students.

His hobbies include woodworking, dog obedience and a vegetable garden.